

Peterborough City Council Action Plan following OfSTED Inspection of Services to Children in Need of Help and Protection, Children Looked After & Care Leavers

Background

The Council places a high priority on improving outcomes for children and young people. We are committed to supporting families to overcome their difficulties so that fewer children and young people need our services to protect them or come into care. Through effective early intervention, our children's services will support families and prevent problems from escalating. We will work with our partners to continue to implement our transformation plans for Children's Services.

We are pleased that the OfSTED Inspection in April 2015 found that we know ourselves well and that the new management team were already making progress to address the areas for improvement identified within the inspection.

This action plan is wide ranging in its remit and this update, 18 months on from the original plan, evidences that significant progress has been made in a number of areas, with a number now either completed or nearing completion. That said, there are also a few areas in which there has been a dip in performance since the last update in November 2016. Such dips are not unexpected where action plans are wide-ranging in their remit, and their identification is a key part of a service knowing itself well and being in a position to review the corrective action required.

While issues such as addressing the stability of the workforce have been largely addressed, caseloads are significantly lower, and management oversight has improved since the inspection, this has not yet fed through into delivering consistent practice improvements. The quality of assessments is significantly improved but there is a continued need for us to improve the quality and consistency of care and other plans, along with chronologies. These areas will receive considerable attention from the heads of service and team managers over the next three months and progress will be supported very significantly with our successful joint bid with Hertfordshire to develop family safeguarding in Peterborough is successful.

Developing systems that enable the near live reporting of performance information has taken longer than envisaged, for example. While Business Objects is now able to run reports for most areas of the business, managers are still not yet able to access near live easy to use performance information through dashboards. This issue has been escalated on a number of occasions. The current proposal for addressing this is to implement new software – ClickView. This was originally due to be implemented for July 2017, but there are recent indications that this may slip a little further.

This is the last update in relation to this plan; areas where actions remain have been transferred in to service plans, where they will continue to be monitored through children's services management meetings. This includes some areas of this plan where most or all actions have been completed, but where continued monitoring is required in order to ensure that performance does not slip.

OFSTED SAID WE MUST:	Ensure that all child in need plans, child protection plans, looked after children plans, pathway plans, and personal education plans are outcome focused, easy to understand and include specific and measurable objectives.	Recommendation 6

The original aspiration was for children in care participation to sit with the broader participation service, with the aim that this would enable links between children in care council and broader participation activities to flourish. This decision has been re-visited as numbers of children in care regularly participating have remained low, and it is likely that some participation resource will transfer to the QA service where other areas of participation are held	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Complete review of where participation resource for children in care and on edge of care is best located. 	Alison Bennett working with Adrian Chapman – July 2017

However, the proportion of children in care who are at risk of becoming NEET is lower than it has been in previous years, and advisory work is being undertaken with the small number who fall into this category; ● The funding of schools via Pupil Premium Grant is now dependent upon receipt of an acceptable ePEP, and the targets within are now more easily and effectively monitored as outcomes.
