The report also provided information about the age, gender and ethnicity of those children and young people.

The Head of Service Corporate Parenting introduced the report and requested Members note the content and raise any queries they had with lead officers. The main issues highlighted were in relation to:

- There had been an increase of 99% for CiC reviews conducted.

The Corporate Parenting Committee debated the report and in summary, key points raised and responses to questions included:

- The Not in Education Employment or Training (NEET) figure outlined within the report was rolling data and was expected to increase during the year, especially where children in care had turned 18 years of age. There were a number of initiatives in place such as apprenticeships and other prevention services available through NEET to encourage the young people back into employment or training.
- The numbers for NEET had risen recently and this had been due to the increase in age range of 25 being monitored.
- Internal processes were being reviewed in order to introduce some earlier planning from the age of 17 in order to avoid young people becoming NEET.
- Changes in relation to support from personal advisors and other services to young people in care had been implemented recently in order to provide an effective transition.
- In addition there had been progress made in relation to the young people in care passports in order to prepare them for adulthood. The changes would see training for staff and foster carers in order to prepare young people from as early as possible.
- Targets for adoption were being reviewed in order to provide realistic goals. Adoption figures were reported quarterly and there had been an increase in special guardianship orders and a reduction in adoption orders.

- There had been 19 adoption orders and 31 special guardianship orders. Some children had to wait a long time for the adoption orders to be placed and this would impact on the percentage figures.
- Placements had been made for some really complex cases and this had been positively commented on recently by Ofsted.
- There had been a concentrated focus by the courts on placing children with family members.
